

Agrify Corporation Appoints Stuart Wilcox to its Board of Directors

February 22, 2021

Former Curaleaf Chief Operating Officer brings significant industry knowledge and expertise to Agrify

BURLINGTON, Mass., Feb. 22, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Agrify Corporation (NasdaqCM:AGFY) ("Agrify" or the "Company") today announced the appointment of Stuart Wilcox, former Chief Operating Officer of Curaleaf, to its Board of Directors. Mr. Wilcox has replaced Matthew Kressy as an Independent Director on the Board. Mr. Kressy recently stepped down as a Director, but he will continue to engage with the Company by actively serving on Agrify's Advisory Board.

Mr. Wilcox is a highly accomplished executive with over 30 years of domestic and international experience, including multiple leadership roles in the cannabis industry. During his career, he has served on numerous cannabis and biotech boards and teams. Mr. Wilcox is currently Chairman of the Board of Ora Pharm, an international cannabis company based in New Zealand. He is also a member of the Advisory Board for Revelation Micro and Managing Partner of NuRevelation, a biotech company based in North Carolina. Previously, Mr. Wilcox spent three years as the Chief Operating Officer of Curaleaf, during which time the company grew into one of the industry's largest cannabis companies. Mr. Wilcox has been a strong advocate for cannabis, influencing legislation to require product safety certifications for cannabis operators, standardized product testing, and standard operating procedures.

"I am thrilled to welcome Stuart to Agrify's Board of Directors," said Raymond Chang, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Agrify. "Stuart brings a wealth of knowledge and experience in the cannabis industry from his previous roles that we believe will be invaluable to Agrify as we continue to scale up our organization to take on the significant growth opportunities ahead of us."

"My experience in the industry has given me substantial insight into the market, and I believe Agrify has one of the most exciting new cultivation solutions available," said Stuart Wilcox. "I am extremely impressed with the quality of the Vertical Farming Units as well as the seamless integration with the Agrify Insights platform. I strongly believe the turnkey solution Agrify provides customers will enable them to grow with new confidence and insights and drive their ability to produce high-quality flower consistently."

Mr. Chang added, "On behalf of the whole Board, I would also like to thank Matthew for his service as a Director, and we look forward to working with him in his new role as an advisor to our team on product development and design."

Mr. Wilcox's previous work in the agriculture sector has included amassing the largest hydroponic grow operation for mung beans in the United States and developing hydroponic cultivation facilities for leafy greens. He received an undergraduate degree in Engineering from the University of Toledo and a graduate degree from Central Michigan University.
